

200 sq/m added
to this office building in the West End whilst fully occupied. The existing roof top plant was re-located and the new storey added by accessing the site via the adjoining Palladium.

On budget
Completed on time to a cost of £550,000 the new floor provides wonderful views across London from the largely glazed mansard roof.

Team
Client: Asda
Structural: Fluid Structures
M&E: Kehr & Tucker
QS: Jackson Coles
Contractor: Moreland
Cost: £0.5 M

Foundation architecture

Argyll Street, WC1

