FROM DISTANT VILLAGES

THE LIVES AND TIMES OF CROATIAN SETTLERS
IN NEW ZEALAND — 1858 to 1958

They came from the coastal regions of Croatia, the majority from the province of Dalmatia and its inland districts. This book commemorates their courage, their relentless toil, their com-mitment to their families and to the making of New Zealand.

From Distant Villages' is a missing link in the history of New Zealand. This unique and fascinating historical record is presented in a large, hard cover volume with 340 photographs and documents, background history, biographies, poems and articles. — Let this be their memorial.
